October, 22, 2020 - Online Dispute Resolution: The New Frontier

Online dispute resolution evolved in phases. The early phase consisted of dispute resolution for online retailers. The second face court-connected access to justice. The ODR community has reached its third phase – ODR for commercial disputes. This includes artificial intelligence and includes many ethical issues, the formulation of standards, block chain, smart contracts, robotic judges as arbitrators and more. Join this panel of experts as they explore the New Frontier of online dispute resolution.

October 29, 2020 - Managing Cybersecurity Threats in Arbitration: What Arbitrators, Counsel, and Clients Should Know

Arbitration in the modern era often involves exchanging and storing confidential material by electronic means, which may expose it to serious cybersecurity threats. This is particularly true in very sensitive or high profile arbitration matters. If anything, these concerns are even more elevated post-COVID as more and more proceedings are being conducted virtually. This program features an experienced and diverse panel, and will address these unique challenges from the arbitrator's, counsel's, and client's perspectives.

Panelists:

Daniel B. Garrie - Senior Managing Partner, Law & Forensics

Carolyn Lamm - Partner, White & Case and former President, ABA

Effie Silva - Vice President & Associate General Counsel, Cargill

Myra Selby - Partner, Ice Miller and former Associate Justice, Indiana Supreme Court

Co-Moderators:

Peter Rosen - Mediator/Arbitrator, JAMS

Harout J. Samra - Associate, DLA Piper
